

Aliens

Once upon a time there was a boy and he had teleconisses. No body knew. Not even the boy. One day an alien spaceship came out of the sky. The aliens looked sad and it sounded like they were crying. Boop ho ho hoop Bo Bo. The boy wanted to help.

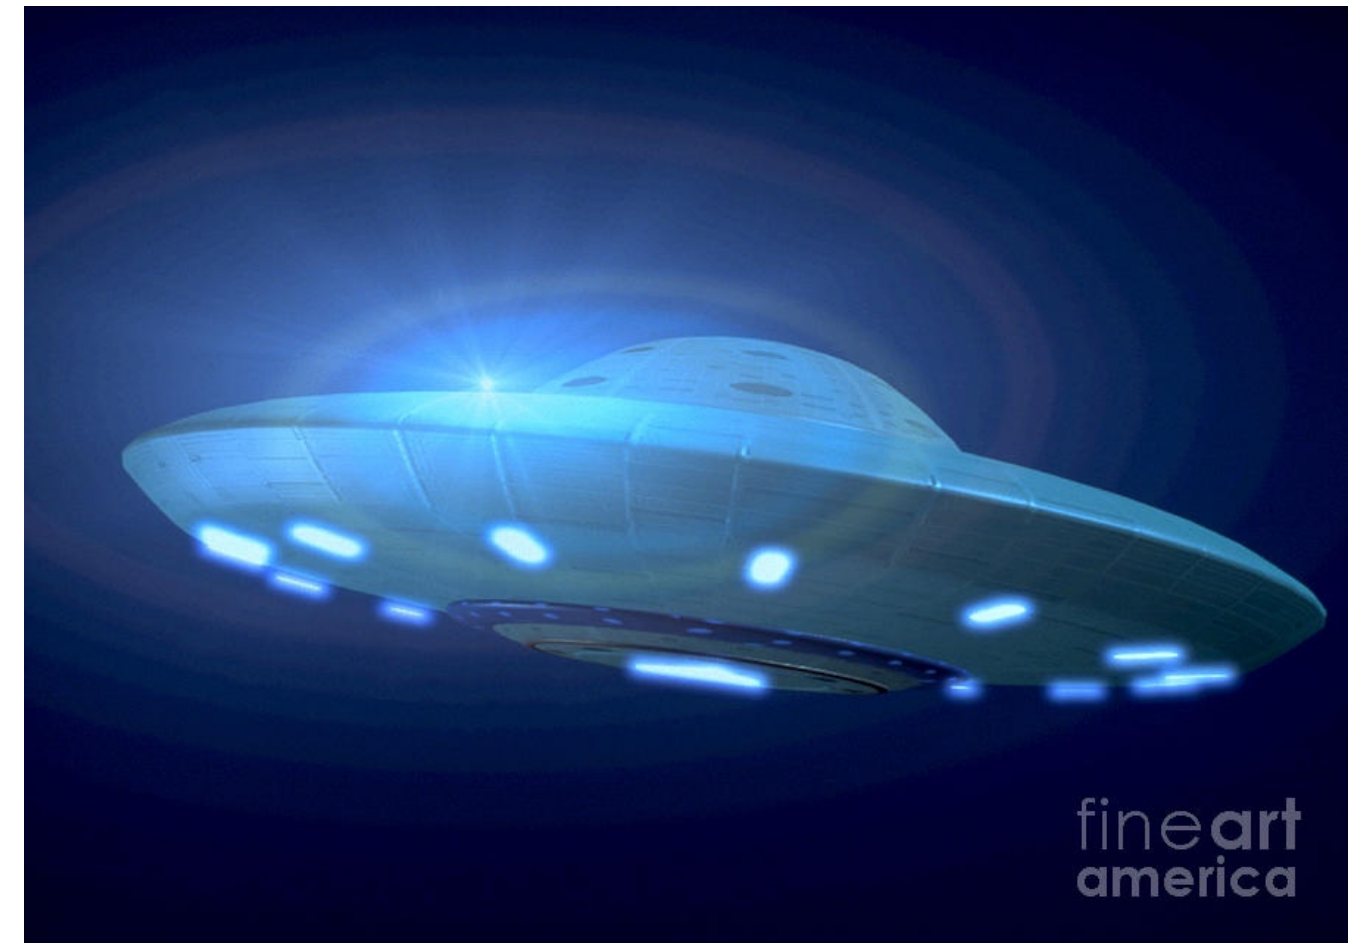

The boy wanted to help but the only thing he could think of is lifting ip the ship. He looked at the ship and it lifted above the ground. And flipped totally over.

The aliens said "boooooop". The aliens started to follow the boy as he left to tell his mom. The boy did not notice. When he got home his mom screamed. The boy turned around, gasped, and ran back outside. He tolled the aliens to stay. The aliens yelled hooooooooooooooooople.

The boy went inside and told his mom about his day. The next day he found he found the spaceship in front of his house! The boy took his mind powers to fix the ship with tools.

Smack! The aliens kidnaped the boy and took him into space. The bag that the boy was in was clear. So he got to see every part of space.

The aliens took the boy to their home planet and they gave him a big chair and a crown. They were making him king.

The boy told the aliens that he wanted to go home so he got a ride back and a Walkie talkie to talk to the aliens.

The
end